Desert hills lining the road shift into mountains. Northern peaks who greet the pink, purple, and orange sunset kiss the sky. A perforation of sorts can be found where a river fills the divide. Yellow daisies line the rocky roadside followed by fields of green grass waving, inviting you inside. Explore you must, and a staircase you'll find. Flat river rocks lay out a path to where mother nature offers serenity. Daylight falls as night skies rise. Introducing to the rivers surface a starry moonlit sky. Trees applauding, crickets chirping, subtle splashes a peace filled vibe. Whispers of the water rolling in gently. Evanescent comes a blanket of soft warm wind. Inhale deeply. Laying back slow, fishy aromas fill the damp soft soil.
